

Sarwa Street Kitchen

Located on the iconic Salah Ad Din Street in East Jerusalem, Sarwa Street Kitchen offers a captivating dining experience. The name "Sarwa" derives from the Palestinian cypress tree, historically cherished for its medicinal properties and featured in Palestinian embroidery. The place offers a warm and inviting atmosphere, where relaxation and enjoyment are paramount. Reviews consistently highlight the exceptional service and reasonable prices, making it a favorite among patrons.

The culinary offerings at Sarwa are a celebration of homemade, flavourful cuisine inspired by remarkable mothers who were exceptional cooks. Embracing different dietary preferences, Sarwa Street Kitchen caters to vegetarian-friendly, vegan, and gluten-free requirements. Whether you join for lunch, dinner, brunch, or breakfast, you'll be treated to a delightful fusion of Mediterranean and Middle Eastern cuisines. The restaurant offers comfortable seating, wheelchair accessibility, table service, takeout options, and the convenience of making reservations.

As you enter Sarwa Street Kitchen, you'll feel a sense of home away from home. The cozy and beautiful interior is adorned with captivating artwork on the walls, creating an inviting ambiance. Guests are also welcome to peruse the collection of complimentary books, adding an extra touch of comfort to the dining experience.
